ON THE MOVE

We are taking on the new English Abitur Schwerpunkt On the Move – Migration and Cross-Cultural Encounters with a series of events that examine the American short stories from different perspectives. We start with two events for (future) teachers on the stories of Luis Alberto Urrea and Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie. Further sessions will follow.

Concept and Moderation: Dr. Saskia Schabio (University of Stuttgart) and Kathrin Büttner (DAZ)

26.10.2023, 17.00 – 20.00 Uhr, online via Zoom

Latino/a Literature in the Classroom: Approaches to Teaching Urrea's Short Fiction

Keynote lectures and a roundtable discussion explore the upcoming Abitur-Schwerpunkt with a focus on Urrea's short story "The Southside Raza Image Federation Corps of Discovery" and the importance of Latinx Studies. Participants will receive helpful tips for discussing the short story in class.

With: Prof. Frederick Luis Aldama, UT Austin and Prof. Dr. Marc Priewe, Universität Stuttgart

14.11.2023, 18.00 – 20.00 Uhr, DAZ Stuttgart

Drama in Education: A Holistic Approach to Teaching Adichie's Short Fiction

We explore the use of drama in teaching Adichie's short story "The Thing Around Your Neck." This involves the holistic and action-oriented use of language by creating authentic communication situations. Participants take on different perspectives and try out possibilities for action from within the role.

With: Silke Franz, Seminar Stuttgart
